

My Word!

A FEW MONTHS ago Police Inspector Art Smith and his wife, Don Bruce, were hospitalized at Albany hospital—Art with a coronary and Don with abdominal difficulties. Wednesday of last week Art returned to the hospital because of abdominal trouble. Later in the day Don came into the next bed. He had had a coronary.

HAPPY NEWS for a change—Don and Karen Chelemedos of 1102 Pomona are the parents of a 10 pound, six ounce daughter, Lori Rae, born at 12:02 Tuesday, Jan. 17. The little girl joins Donnie, five. Don is at Chelemedos Market. Karen recently sold Solano Style shop across the street.

C. F. GRAEBER is another of Albany's "good guys." He has collected and shipped 1,284 paperbacks to the naval hospital at Subic Bay, Manila, P.I. He heard that one of the books has been read by 80 hospitalized servicemen. If you have any paperbacks you'd like to donate to the cause, drop them off at Charlie's home, 1061 Peralta.

MANY MARCH OF DIMES events this week: the fashion show tonight at the Veterans' building, the basketball game Saturday night at the AHS gym and the annual Mothers' March Tuesday night. The local committee was upset because events dragged into March last year, made an effort to keep the 1967 campaign in January, which is March of Dimes month.

BERT GRIFFIN has been in bed with the flu since his retirement dinner. That dinner was Bob Dennis' last outing too. He entered Kaiser hospital the following morning.

RICH DUVAL MASCOT FOR POST 292 DIMES BASKETBALL SATURDAY

Richard Duval, 19, son of Rosie and Helen Duval of 1624 Posen Ave., Berkeley, will be mascot for the 16th annual Albany post 292, American Legion, Night of Basketball for the March of Dimes beginning at 7 p.m. this Saturday, Jan. 28, at the Albany High school gymnasium.

Rich was the mascot for the games when he was seven years old, then in a wheel chair and using crutches and braces because of a devastating attack of polio. Albany City Chairman Lewis Howell will start the games with the tossup. William (Bill) Davis of radio and TV station KGO will be master of ceremonies.

Note of Thanks

My sincere appreciation to the many friends who have remembered me with flowers, plants, get well cards and messages or in other ways.

These have truly served as a "shot in the arm" for me physically and psychologically.

Three different ladies in the mail unit have told me that in the time they have worked at Kaiser hospital, no one patient has ever received so much mail in one day as I. This made me so proud and happy.

My deepest gratitude to all who have remembered me in any way, including their thoughts and prayers.

City Council Takes Steps To Fill Egenberger Seat

Albany City Council's four remaining members met in closed executive session following the regular Monday night meeting to discuss procedure and candidates to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Councilman Joseph A. Egenberger, Jr.

Mayor Richard Clark said Tuesday morning that no decision was reached and that another session will be held to discuss the matter.

The person selected by Council will serve until April, 1968, when he or she must run for a four-year term.

Under provisions of the City Charter, the mayor may appoint the fifth councilman if a decision has not been reached within 30 days.

Before the council session adjourned, City Attorney Larry Sauer said a closed meeting may be held to discuss personnel under provisions of the Brown Act. He indicated the appointment might even be made in the closed session.

The meeting itself lasted less than an hour. In the audience were Robert King, Albany adult education civics teacher, and members of his class who are making a comparative study of various city governments.

Council passed on first reading an ordinance which would transfer assessing and tax collecting functions to the County of Alameda. The charter change making the action possible was approved by voters in April, 1966, and will represent a saving of about $23,000 to the city.

In order to meet a deadline for applying for federal funds to help finance Albany's beautification program, a resolution was approved adopting the proposed program.

Other resolutions passing 4-0 established Albany's eligibility to receive surplus property; supported World Airways' application for certification by the Civil Aeronautics Board; established a yellow zone at 1553 Solano Ave., and commended the services of the late Vice Mayor and Councilman Egenberger.

Council accepted Administrative Officer James B. Turner's report on the completion of Cleveland Avenue and authorized final payment of $3,476.

The mayor was authorized to proclaim February as American History Month and the week of Feb. 19-26 as National Brotherhood Week. Council directed the preparation of a resolution of commendation for Edward J. Babros, who is retiring Feb. 15 after 22 years with the park department.

Fire Chief Gerald Browne's recommendation that a new electronic maintenance agreement be entered into with the County of Contra Costa was referred to City Attorney Sauer for the preparation of the necessary resolution.

Those willing to work with young people are urged to attend the next meeting at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, Feb. 1, at the Recreation building in University Village. Those unable to attend but willing to help may call Mrs. Landucci at 526-1239 or Recreation Superintendent Bud Roney at LA 6-6116.

Personalized Service at Super Stop

Approximately 25 per cent of a family's income is spent on food. How can the smaller "super market" be of most value to consumers? Through personalized service, stated Clifton Axt, owner-manager of the Super Stop.

"We have the staff and the time to give individual attention to our customers, to assist them in getting full value out of their food dollar," Axt said, "we take the guess work out of their buying."

"Prices on most standard, advertised brands are comparable to those in other stores. When food items from distributors decrease in price, we pass this saving on to our customers." The meat department, managed by John A. Medeiros has announced a cut of 16 cents to 34 cents per pound on all his meats. Only first grade U.S.D.A. choice beef, lamb, pork, all smoked meats, and Grade A California grown poultry is handled. Medeiros personally selects his meats, taking advantage of the best buys from wholesalers. If a shipment arrives and is not up to his standard, it is returned to the wholesaler.

All meat is sold over the counter, fresh cut, and if a customer does not see what he wants, Medeiros will cut to order without undue delay.

In the produce department, deliveries are made daily. Large selection is available to customers," Axt stated, "we refuse to accept any deliveries which are not strictly fresh."

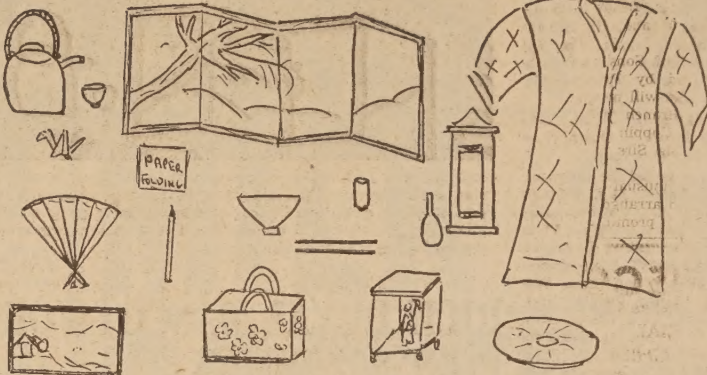

Customers are invited to for themselves how personalized service can give dollar for dollar value.

In addition, Blue Chip Savings are given at both grocery and meat counters.

In funeral service, there are many details which may, at least on the surface, seem fairly minor. Some of them, in fact, the average family won't even be aware of — IF they are properly attended to. If, on the other hand, any of these "minor" details isn't given skilled attention, the family most certainly will notice that the service is somehow not up to the standard they expect.

We are not in the least satisfied with our service unless the family is entirely satisfied, which explains the dedicated way we take care of all the details, large and small, that go into making a perfect final tribute.

Stitchery As An Art

Another class in "Stitchery As An Art," has been scheduled by the Albany Adult School. The course, taught by Mrs. Eleanor Johnson, who has had wide experience in the field, will cover instruction in design and color concepts as applied to embroidery, applique, and surface weaving (non-loom).

Mrs. Johnson will base her class on a workshop idea, in which both class and individual help are covered. At her opening session she will make a survey of the course and will discuss materials and sources for the course work, as well as actually starting the students to explore by working directly with the materials.

Each session covers progressively more comprehension in achieving variation within the design. The course, open both to Albany and non-Albany residents, will be held on Monday afternoons, 1 to 4 in the Solano unit, corner of Solano and Cornell Avenues, starting Jan. 30.

worth $87 each. The backing was made in Sweden, frames in England, and the tiles were made 200 years ago in China.

OFFICER JIM SIMMONS has his yellow '66 Riviera back and it's almost in one piece (he feared in the 10 days it was missing that it had been dismantled). An Albany woman who bowls at the Rheem alley told him last Wednesday that she thought she had seen it on Rheem Blvd., near Moraga. Jim roared out and there it was ... parked by an apartment house and damaged on the front fender and side as though someone had struck a guard rail. Being a good cop, he dusted it for fingerprints and looked for clues before calling the tow truck. He is so happy to have it back because it is the car he scripped and saved to buy.

The Rains Came

Albany and all of Northern California were inundated by rains and buffeted by winds over the weekend.

After a respite Sunday and Monday, rain began again Monday evening and continued through Tuesday morning, when an early electrical storm knocked out power on San Pablo Avenue. It was restored about 11 a.m.

While the lights were out, a prisoner at Albany jail went berserk and it took four men to subdue him.

Anyone know how much rain fell in our circulation area?

Band Booster Fish Fry Feb. 10th

At the January meeting of the Albany High Band Boosters, plans were discussed for the third annual Fish Fry to be held Friday night, Feb. 10, from 5 to 8 p.m. at Cornell cafeteria.

The menu this year will include fish, hash browned potatoes, salad, French bread and cake. The price of tickets is $1 which will cover one adult or two pre-school children.

Chairmen of the fish fry this year are Mr. and Mrs. Art Overman.

Assisting will be the following committee heads: hospitality, Mrs. Ken Forry and Mrs. Ted Valli; salad, Mrs. Vic Brandt; organization of help, Mrs. Eldon Wolf; tickets, Mrs. Wilma Polivka.

Food will be prepared under the direction of head chef Ken Forry and Rex Volheim. As in the past, Mrs. Jenny Niemela will offer her invaluable assistance.

The first fish fry raised funds for new band uniforms. Last year's raised funds for white dinner jackets for the boys in the orchestra and this year's proceeds are earmarked for a drum set for the dance band and lights for music stands.

Ernest Douglas, AHS instrumental music director, said, "We are most gratified by the tremendous response of the citizens of Albany to our past fish fries and hope they will support us again this year."

Tickets are available from members of the band, orchestra and instrumental classes and also at Drozda Richfield service station.

Presidents of the Band Boosters this year are Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKenna.

State CDC President Democratic Speaker

Statewide President of the California Democratic Council, Gerald Hill, will lead a discussion of "The Future of the CDC in California Politics" at a public meeting of the Albany Democratic club, Thursday, Jan. 26, at the Cornell School library in Albany.

A San Francisco attorney, Hill was Executive Director of the State Housing Commission under Governor Brown. He was elected president of the grassroots organization of Democratic clubs last spring.

Plans for the 1967 CDC convention in Fresno on March 10, 11 and 12 will also be made.

Albany Democratic Club President Tim Fine has urged all interested Democrats to attend the meeting to talk about the resurgence of the CDC during the next four years and to learn of the opportunities for Democrats to return responsible government to Sacramento, to prevent destruction of California's system of higher education, to prevent unwarranted increases in taxes and telephone rates and issues of primary interest to all citizens.

Our computer is watching you.

You're being watched — by a friend. The "eyes" belong to our new IBM 360 computer, which has just begun its first task — turning out your water bills more quickly, accurately, and economically than ever before. (The computer rolls you see here have actually replaced over 3-1/2 million punch cards!) In the future, the IBM 360 will be measuring snowfall, estimating reservoir levels, even counting the number of fish caught in Lafayette Reservoir. These are just a few of the many ways our new computer will keep watch, making sure you always have plenty of pure, fresh water at a fair price.

BELL TELEPHONE HOUR HONORS SAN FRANCISCO

"The Sounds and Sights of San Francisco—an in-depth study of the music, the arts and the artists which make the Bay Area a cultural center of the nation—will be seen here on Sunday, Jan. 29.

The one-hour colorcast, a new Bell Telephone Hour special, will be aired at 6:30 p.m. over NBC-TV (Channel 4).

In recognition of this event, San Francisco Mayor John F. Shelley has designated the week of January 23-29 as "Bell Telephone Hour Week."

The San Francisco program opens in a swirl of sun and fog which sets the pace for the Bell Telephone Hour's portrayal of San Francisco—a city of contrasts.

Musically, these contrasts are represented in part by the San Francisco Ballet, the San Francisco Opera, the San Francisco Symphony and—at the other end of the spectrum—the Jefferson Airplane at Fillmore Auditorium and John Handy and his jazz quintet in a concert at Stern Grove.

The San Francisco Opera Company's production of "The Marriage of Figaro" in the Paul Masson Vineyards features Sylvia Davis, winner of the opera company's annual competition for new talent.

Visits are paid to Milton and Peggy Salkind, specialists in four-hand, one-piano music and to Mills College, where an electronic computer plays a composition by Ihan Mimatoglu. The computer's music is interpreted in a dance staged by the ballet company's experimental workshop.

Also seen will be a performance of ancient Chinese music and, finally, 17-year-old concert pianist Patricia Michaelian, as she rehearses and plays with the San Francisco Orchestra, under the direction of conductor Josef Krips.

Letters

Editor, the Times:

I would first like to answer the modern day "scrooge" that made the remark about Albany having the distinction of owning the largest and most expensive Christmas tree stand! Obviously this man is unaware of progress and it's necessities, also he has probably not been on the freeway during the peak hours of traffic. Otherwise he would recognize the need for Rapid Transit and accept it, as the majority of the citizens of Albany have. Then he might commend Albany for making the best of things and putting that lovely tree atop the transit track! It not only is a symbol of Albany's Christmas Spirit, but also shows the great heart our little town has and its ability to adjust gracefully to any situation.

Now for the Complaint Dept. I wonder how many parents and grandparents either had to stand or just couldn't stay for the Christmas program held at Marin school Tuesday night the 13th of Dec.? I'm sure you know that some of us spent many hours making the new robes for our children's choir and in our case, as in others too, I'm sure, we were unable to see or hear them because there simply was not room for us. My parents, who have lived in Albany for years, made a special effort to be there and being elderly were not able to stand in the crowd, so they had to return home without hearing or seeing their granddaughter in the choir. Perhaps we could arrange to have our special programs at the high school. I hope the school officials will give this some thought for next year.

Sincerely,
A Devoted Albany Citizen

Childhood Disease Cases Nearly Disappear in Berkeley

In Berkeley, childhood diseases which previously posed a great threat to youngsters, are now almost eradicated due to immunizations by physicians and health department clinics.

In a year end report, Dr. Alvin R. Leonard, Director of Berkeley Health Department, reported the incidence of measles had dropped 82 per cent in the past two years. There have been no paralytic polio cases for seven years.

Veneral disease in Berkeley, as well as the United States, is the number one communicable disease problem. Syphilis increased by 12 cases, from 90 in 1965 to 102 in 1966. Gonorrhea increased 50 per cent, from 598 cases in 1965 to over 900 in 1966. Two-thirds of the cases were in the 20-29 age group.

In an attempt to deal with the VD and other health problems the city's health department and the Berkeley Unified School district are cooperating in an intensive health education program in the classroom.

This year 30 new cases of tuberculosis were reported, about the same as last year.

Births occurring in Berkeley declined 4.3 per cent, while deaths increased 10.0 per cent. Fetal deaths per cent.

Early in the year an outbreak of Typhoid which contributed to deaths among many school age children affected but not reported.

The Berkeley health department began a free service for Berkeley residents attempting to bring fire hazards and due to accumulation on private property.
